Adding cellular text message (SMS) addresses to your personal account if you choose:

StatusMe Network notifications can be sent to your cell phone as a text message (also known as SMS - Short Message Service). Most cell phones today can receive text messages. To receive notifications directly to your cell phone, enter your cell phone's text message address into your StatusMe personal account information.

When configuring your personal contact in StatusMe, enter just your 10-digit number then select your cell phone carrier from the drop-down list. If your carrier is not listed, then simply select "other".

Note: you may need to contact your cellular provider to update your account or configuration to allow receipt of text messages. Text message charges are the responsibility of the member.
